

Youssef Cassis is Professor at the Robert Schuman Centre for Advanced Studies, European University Institute, Florence, and Director of the European Research Council funded project on 'The Memory of Financial Crises: Financial Actors and Global Risk'. His most recent books include Crises and Opportunities. The Shaping of Modern Finance (Oxford University Press, 2011), and, with Philip Cottrell, Private Banking in Europe: Rise, Retreat and Resurgence (Oxford University Press, 2015). He has also recently co-edited, with Jean-Jacques van Helten, The Legacy of the Global Financial Crisis (I.B. Tauris, 2021); and, with Catherine Schenk, Remembering and Learning from Financial Crises (Oxford University Press, 2021).